OLDEST POET OF CANADA DIED TO-DAY

Charles Mair, Apostle of Sturdy Canadianism,
Passes in Victoria

Contributions to Canadian Literature Made Him Famous

The whole of Canada will grieve to learn of the death of Charles Mair, the Dominion's oldest poet and exponent
of a sturdy Canadianism, who passed away to-day at the Jubilee Hospital in his eighty-seventh year.

Accoladed as the first poet of Confederation it was fitting that the famous contributor to Canadian literature should be spared to see Canada
celebrate the Diamond Jubilee of national unity which the influence of his works had helped to realize.

His advancing age and active life
had taken its toll physically in the last few years, but until a few months ago
he enjoyed fairly good health and his memory was unclouded and his mind alert until just before his death. An edition by John W. Garvin of Mr. Mair's complete writings in verse and prose in a series of "Master Works of Canadian Authors" was recently described by the famous book reviewer, Prof. W. T. Allison as the outstanding publication of the Diamond Jubilee year.

OF PIONEER PARENTS

Mr. Mair was born in Lanark, September 21, 1840, and was a son of Mr.
and Mrs. James M. Mair, of the hardy race of Scotch who came to Canada to build up their fortunes in the lumber industry. Educated at Perth Grammar School and Queen's University, Kingston, he studied medicine and also engaged in trade before he entered upon the literary career through which he attained fame.

He was twenty-eight years of age
when he first started writing to the press in prose and poetry the contributions which so vividly present Canadian life and Canadian ideals from the time the Dominion was in its infancy.

His early works were "Dreamland
and Other Poems," published in 1869;
"Teumess," a drama, published in the same year; "The Last Bloom," published two years later, and "Through the Mackenzie Basin," published in 1891. About the time he was correspondent at Fort Garry for The Montreal Gazette and wrote a brilliant series of papers for the journal called
"Canada in the Far West."

IN RIEL REBELLION

He suffered a severe loss during the First Riel rebellion in which he was an active participant on the loyal side,
by the destruction by the rebels of many valuable manuscripts belonging to him and was imprisoned and sentenced to be shot by Riel. He served throughout the second rebellion. He was Northwest Territory as a medical officer. Traveling the Canada which he loved he afterwards went to the Okanagan country, where he became an officer in the Canadian army. He was one of the founders of the "Canada
First" party in 1870. He was from 1870 a F.R.S.C.

Frequently Mr. Mair was urged to take an active part in politics and on several occasions was pressed to ac-

VANCOUVER PRESSES CLAIM FOR ISLAND

Renews Request Federal Government Transfer Dead-
man's Island to the City

Vancouver, July 7.—Vancouver is again pressing its claim for a grant of Deadman's Island. A wire was sent to Hon. J. H. King at Ottawa yesterday
calling attention to reported pressure
by the Harbor Board to gain control of the island and pointing out that the city's application years ago had been held up pending the outcome of litigation. It was pointed out that the island is physically and otherwise part of Stanley Park and stating that any industrialization would not only be injurious to the city's interests, but decidedly against public opinion.

A telegram was also sent to Hon. J.
L. Ralston, Minister of Defence, setting out the city's prior claim to the island.

Liquor Conviction Is to be Argued

Vancouver, July 7.—On the application of Stuart Henderson, Mr. Justice
Morrison in the Supreme Court here
to-day, granted a writ of habeas corpus, returnable at New Westminster, July 12, when the validity of a conviction against Angelo Spotto will be investigated.

Spotto was found guilty by Magistrate Jay in Victoria of keeping whisky
and rum for sale at Belleville Street,
Victoria, and was ordered to pay $100
or go to jail for four months. He went to prison.

LIQUOR APPEAL FAILS

Toronto, July 7.—The first appeal heard here from a conviction for a breach of the Ontario Liquor Control Act has failed. Peter Kirpitsky of New Toronto appealed a sentence of two months in jail for selling a bottle of wine and Judge Coatsworth yesterday dismissed the case with costs.

LIEUT. PAUL TARASCON

CAPT. GEORGES PELLETIER

Charles A. Levine, who crossed with Clarence D. Chamberlin, pilot, from New York to Germany in the Wright-Bellanca monoplane Columbia, is preparing to attempt a return flight from Europe to New York in the famous machine, piloted by a French aviator. The name of the pilot has not been announced as yet, but reports say either Lieut. Paul Tarascon or Capt. Georges Pelletier will be at the controls. Tarascon lost a leg in action during the World War and now wears a wooden substitute for the limb.

GREAT HAWAIIAN VOLCANO BURSTS INTO ERUPTION

Hilo, Island of Hawaii, July 7.—Kila-

EUROPE-U.S. FLIGHT PLANNED BY LEVINE

He and French Pilot Hope to Use New York-Germany
Plane Columbia

Paris, July 7.—Clarence D. Chamberlin will fly the Wright-Bellanca monoplane Columbia to London to-morrow
with the as yet unnamed French pilot
who will attempt a return flight across the Atlantic with Charles A. Levine, he announced to-day.

Chamberlin will show the new pilot
the controls and everything he needs
to know about the peculiarities of the plane, as well as give him the full benefit of the experience gained on Cham-berlin's and Levine's flight in the Columbia from New York to Germany.
Chamberlin will leave the plane in London to be returned to France by the French pilot, and himself will sail
from Southampton on the liner Leviathan next Tuesday.

TARASCON MAY FLY
It is believed the pilot who will take the Columbia back to the United States will be either Captain Georges Pelletier
or Oisay of Paris-to-Tokyo flight fame. Paul Tarascon, who originally planned the trip across the ocean with the ill-fated Major Francis Cook and who since the failure of the Nungesser-Gorham flight has been working on plans
for one of his own.

DISSEMINATION REPORTED
Chamberlin declined to comment on rumors current in Paris that there had been a break between himself and Levine.

SOUTH POLE FLIGHT PLAN ABANDONED

Byrd's Proposal Does Not Appeal Favorably to U.S.
Navy Secretary

Paris, July 7.—When the attention of Commander Richard E. Byrd was called to-day to a dispatch from New York saying Curtis D. Wilbur, Secretary of the United States Navy, opposed for the time being any plans for a South Pole flight, he asked to be excused from making any comment.
The French press, commenting on the dispatch, takes the viewpoint that the reported opposition of the Secretary of the Navy means abandonment of Byrd's Antarctic flight plan.

Secretary Wilbur last Saturday said
he considered a flight around the equator would be of more value than Commander Byrd's proposed South Pole flight.

POULTRY SHOW AT OTTAWA IS TO BE WORLD'S GREATEST

WAREHOUSE BY-LAW NOT ASSAILABLE

City Council Fortified With Strong Legal Opinion

Measure to be Voted July 14
in no Danger Before Courts

"The legality of the proposed Terminal Warehouse By-law received most careful consideration at the hands of the industrial committee and of the City Council," declared City Solicitor
Pringle this morning, in discussing the measure.

Prior to the adoption of the by-law
for submission to the ratifiers, the city solicitor, under instructions from the industrial committee, referred this question to counsel for the city, and received a written opinion of which the following are extracts:

"We are of opinion that the illegality
or legality of the by-law depends in ultimate result upon fact and not law."

"The power of the council to pass a bonus or assisting by-law is subject to restrictions preventing assistance to new industries competing with existing business of like character, the advisers
point out.

NO COMPETITION

It is the view of the city authorities
that there is at present no public cold storage warehouse in operation, with published tariffs, available for the use of all businesses and producers of Greater Victoria. This view is supported by the city's counsel, who state
in their written opinion, "Nothing of the kind exists within the corporate limits of Victoria at present, as there can be no direct or indirect competition with any existing undertaking."

This opinion by counsel admits there is a possibility that incidental competition may result from operation of a bonus warehouse, but points out that "this only becomes of importance in the event of proceedings being taken to quash the by-law. . . . Until the by-law is passed and attacked,
however, there is no possibility of finding out."

PORT UTILITY

After submitting a long array of instances culled from court reports, the city's counsel pointed out "There is another aspect of the agreement and
by-law, however, which tends to negative the possibility of incidental competition." The Terminal Warehouse is to be operated as "a general port utility on the basis of published tariffs." It is stated that the by-law is "not a protection to be decided, and that the City Council is, therefore, justified in passing the by-law, and in opposing any proceedings to quash, because it is of vital importance to the civic industrial programme to ascertain the legality or statutory limits of the city's powers."

CONSTRUCTIVE COURSE

"With this opinion before them the industrial committee and the council decided that the only constructive
course open was to submit the by-law
to the electors," stated Mr. Pringle. "It was considered that, in the event of protest, the existence of direct competition can be disproved, and that,
instead of competing with any, the Terminal Warehouse will be of benefit to every established business in this city," he concluded.

U.S. Builds Great Battle Aeroplane

New York, July 7.—The New York
American says a great battle aeroplane
designed to carry five machine guns and gunners is being constructed for the United States War Department by the Atlantic Aircraft Corporation at Hawthorne Heights, N.J. The plane, designed by Anthony H. G. Fokker, has a wing spread of seventy-three feet.

WOOD'S VIEWS CLASH WITH COOLIDGE'S

Governor Wants U.S. War Department to Continue to Control Philippines

Washington, July 7.—Governor General Leonard Wood of the Philippines, after conference with Secretary of War Davis to-day, declared he hoped the islands would remain under the jurisdiction of the War Department of the United States.

His view is in direct conflict with the recent suggestion of President Coolidge for the transfer of the insular government to the Department of the Interior.

The objection to the transfer raised by General Wood was that the Philippine Government "needs a department
with the necessary strength to back
it up."

"It will be some time," he said, "before the Philippines are ready for independence. We have put our shoulder to the wheel and must see them through."

Grace Aeroplane In Pacific Race

Honolulu, July 7.—Announcement is made that the aeroplane in which Richard Grace, movie stunt aviator, crashed on the island of Kauai July 4
shortly after taking off for a flight to California, will be entered for the Dole prizes of $35,000 offered for the first and second fliers to reach Hawaii from the mainland of the United States after August 12. Eason B. Koger, mechanic for Grace, said the plane would be shipped to Los Angeles and repaired in time for the Dole competition.

WILL VISIT EUROPE; HON. JAMES A. ROBB

Quebec, July 7.—Hon. James A.
Robb, Minister of Finance of Canada, to-day is at sea on his way to Europe.
"I am not going to Europe to negotiate a treaty with Germany, and I will visit only France and England," he said on board the liner Empress of Australia before the vessel sailed from here yesterday afternoon for Cherbourg and Southampton. He declared he needed a rest after strenuous work in Ottawa.
"I am going," he said, "leaving the finances of the country in a safe position. We have money sufficient to meet our requirements.
I will return in August."
Premier King will be Acting
Minister of Finance during Mr.
Robb's absence.

FEEDER BY-ELECTION SOON IN ONTARIO

Expected Writs For North
Huron Will be Issued Within
Two Weeks

Vacancy in Commons Caused
By Death of J. W. King,
Elected as Progressive

Ottawa, July 7.—Writs for the Federal by-election in North Huron, Ontario, will probably be issued within two weeks, from what can be learned here.

Hon. J. C. Elliott, Minister of Public Works, left Ottawa last evening, and to-day it was said his mission was connected with the forthcoming contest.
But nothing can be done before Tuesday at the earliest, as there will be no Cabinet meeting to pass the necessary order-in-council until that date.
The vacancy in North Huron was caused by the death of John W. King, Progressive, who in the last general election defeated the Conservative candidate, MacFarlan, by a vote of 5,892 to 5,547.

SUNDAY CLOSING REQUEST FAILS

Vancouverites to Continue
Buying Candy, Says Police Commissioner

HON. J. C. ELLIOTT
Minister of Public Works of Canada.

Vancouver, July 7.—"I don't believe in closing down shops on Sundays.
No town would prosper under these conditions," declared Mayor Taylor to-day in opposing a request of William Savage to the police commissioner on behalf of a local chain of candy
stores that all candy stores be required to close on Sundays.

"A great many people want to buy candies on Sundays. I do myself," said the Mayor.

REQUEST REFUSED
Vancouverites Carbutt and Fletcher agreed with the Mayor, with the result that the request of Mr. Savage was turned down.

Mr. Savage thereupon said the firm
he represented would be forced to open its stores on Sundays, although its directors had wished to avoid working
the employees on Sunday.

"We would be ridiculed by ninety percent of the people of Vancouver," said
Mr. Fletcher. "It would not be safe for us to walk in the streets if we petitioned," said Alderman Garbutt.

NO PROSECUTIONS
Deputy Police Chief Dan Leather-
dale reported that for the past several years the police had been under instructions not to prosecute for the sale of tobacco or candy on Sundays, Alderman Garbutt declared
he doubted if the law could be enforced.

"We could close the whole town up,"
replied Deputy Chief Leatherdale.
"We could not enforce a law against selling candy on Sundays any more than we can enforce the law against bootlegging," said Alderman Garbutt.
"It would put the police in an impossible position. Drug stores would continue to sell candy."

NO COMPLAINTS
"I don't think the people of Vancouver have anything to complain of
so far as Sunday observance is concerned," said Commissioner Fletcher.
Police Chief Long pointed out that the enforcement of the Sunday Observance Act was a matter in the discretion of the commissioners, as they had to apply to the Attorney-General of British Columbia for a fiat before any prosecution could be undertaken.

Nine Killed in Train Wreck on German Mountain

Berlin, July 7.—Nine persons are known to have lost their lives in a Hartz railway accident, when an engine and passenger coach left the rails and plunged into a valley 100 feet below.
The disaster was due to torrential
rains which had undermined the railroad bed. The train was slowly descending into the valley from Germany's highest mountain, Brocken,
when the engine and first coach
jumped the rails.

action pending the action of the City Council with regard to the renewed

YOUTH RIDING BICYCLE KILLED

New Westminster, July 7.—Riding home on his bicycle from work at the Mill of the Brunette Lumber Company limited, Rene Labond, eighteen, of Mallardville, was killed on the roadway
near the Municipal Hall in that village
about midnight.
Apparently striking an uneven surface in the roadway, the youth pitched against the side of a motor stage and was thrown to the sidewalk, his neck
being broken.

New U.S. Border Rules Are Clarified

Washington, July 7.—The recent negotiations between the Canadian Legation here and the United States Department of Immigration have resulted in clearing up some points in the border crossing regulations. The regulations became the subject of debate when the Labor Department imposed new regulations affecting Canadians living in the Dominion and working on the United States side of the border.

One important point is the status of Canadians who comply with the head tax and visa regulations, thereby qualifying technically as immigrants to the United States. Immigration experts have ruled these commuters may continue indefinitely without further payment of fees or renewal of passports, except that periodical inspection is required of commuter's permit cards, probably every six months.

Even if commuters change their place of employment in the United States, they will not be subject to challenge. Also they may discontinue commuting for a reasonable period and recommence under their old status, providing they do not contravene any of the fixed clauses in the United States Immigration Act.

Another important phase of the new regulations has been clarified with assurance of the Labor Department that Canadians may qualify as commuters in the future. Some phrases of the order raised a doubt whether Canadians not already commuting when the order was issued would be able to enter the United States daily to work on that side of the border.

The Canadian Legation has been assured that the whole purpose of the order is not to exclude Canadians qualified under the act, but to define their status.

Declares Measure First Step Towards Development of Port Facilities

Advising all progressive citizens to work and vote for the cold storage by-law to be submitted to the ratepayers on July 14, Mayor Carl Penderay this afternoon gave the Rotary Club a full explanation of the proposed measure, the extent of the aid to be extended by the city and the advantages to be gained.

The address of the Mayor was given at the conclusion of the weekly Rotary Club luncheon, held at the Ogdin Point Dock, and followed a tour of the site of the proposed cold storage plant and an examination of the advantages of the location.

SEES BENEFITS

"What is this cold storage proposition you want us to endorse? What is there in it for us? What is it going to cost?"

"These are questions you Rotarians and business men will most likely be asking, before you are prepared to vote on this by-law," said Mayor Penderay.

"In speaking to you to-day, I feel that you are entitled to know the history of this proposition. I intend to give you my time, from now on until the by-law is submitted, to putting the question before the ratepayers as I see it, showing the benefits which I believe will accrue to the city from the establishment of a cold storage plant here, and also showing the liability which the taxpayers will have to assume if the present proposition is endorsed."

IDLE WATERFRONT

Mayor Penderay recalled his attitude of reluctance to stand for the mayoralty when first approached in 1924. His decision to offer himself was in great part due to the lack of use of Victoria's harbor facilities. This had also influenced his brother, H. J. Penderay, to give consent to business changes necessitated by his candidature.

The Mayor's statement that his brother had "hoped I would be locked," was greeted with laughter.

STORAGE NEEDED

He referred to the appointment of Roger D. Penderay as industrial adviser to the City Council, his exhaustive study of opportunities, and his conviction that a cold storage plant in Victoria is essential and can become profitable.

CITY'S ASSISTANCE

"The proposition before us is that the City of Victoria guarantee the net earnings of this cold storage concern, up to but not exceeding $38,500 per year, for a period of ten years. We also did the assessment of improvements for taxation purposes at $40,000. At the end of ten years the assessment is then $85,000 for taxation purposes. We also agree to give the company water at a flat rate of 7.8 cents per 1,000 gallons for a period of twenty years."

"At this stage I would like to point out that if we are successful in securing a lease of the Ogdin Point Piers, the amount on which we have to guarantee earnings will be reduced to $30,000, which, at seven per cent, would be $21,000 per annum. Let me also point out that there is a Dominion Government subsidy given to cold storage plants amounting to thirty per cent of the total cost, payable over five years. This subsidy has been granted to a number of plants throughout Canada, as the Government is anxious to encourage the development of cold storage facilities. If we are successful in obtaining this subsidy for the company, our liability will be reduced accordingly, making the total guarantee of the city round $24,000 per annum. The city also undertakes to use its best influence to secure a lease on the Ogdin Point Piers."

$50,000 Fire on Vessel Destroys Cotton in Hold

New York, July 7.—A ship of smoke, discovered after the eighty-nine passengers had gone down the gangplank, turned into a $50,000 fire aboard the Pacific Steamship Line ship, which docked from her voyage from South American ports Tuesday.

The fire, apparently due to spontaneous combustion in a cotton laden hold, destroyed several hundred bales of cotton and threatened a large stock of cotton in a neighboring hold before it was extinguished.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

The Victoria Daily Times, July 7, 1902.

At the Caledonia grounds Saturday, July 5, the junior lacrosse game, played between the Capitals and South Park teams, resulted in a win for the former by a score of 11-0.

The Victoria vs. Port Angeles baseball game Saturday afternoon, at the Oak Bay Park, resulted in an easy win for the local players, the visiting players securing only one run while the local team scored eighteen.

Victoria and vicinity—Moderate winds, fine and warm.

"Sixth, it means the schooner, the Kelvin and Victoria, which have been unsuccessful in securing Indian crews on the West Coast, arrived in here this morning.

The Rosalia this morning brought back to the city the Fifth Regiment band, which has been filling an engagement for the last few days in Seattle.

den Point Piers for the company," the mayor explained.

MANY ADVANTAGES

Showing the advantages to be gained by the citizens from a public cold storage warehouse, he said:

"First, it means the expenditure of, at least, $300,000 for the construction of this plant, $250,000 of this amount being spent on labor among our own citizens, provision being made for the employment of local labor, wherever possible, at fair wages.

"Second, it means increased revenue to the city in the way of taxes and the sale of water.

"Third, it means that the fishing industry will have an opportunity to make Victoria the headquarters for the chasing its supplies from our merchants and possibly moving a number of families to our city.

"Fourth, it means that our local fruit and berry growers will have an opportunity to store and sell their products to the best advantage.

"Fifth, it means the fuller development of the whole of our surrounding districts by giving farmers and others an opportunity to store their products for export shipment.

"Sixth, it means a large payroll for the city. A great deal of labor is required for handling goods in and out of a cold storage plant, and there will be a consequent increase in the shipping of our port, all meaning increased business for our merchants."

SMALL SUM INVOLVED

Dealing with the charges which may fall upon the city, Mayor Penderay said:

"At the very outside, the most it can cost to our citizens, even if the cold storage company has to buy its own site away from the Ogdin Point piers, even if they do not get the subsidy from the Dominion Government, and also provided that the whole undertaking is an absolute failure, is $38,500 per year for ten years. We are not guaranteeing the failure, but, in my opinion, we are guaranteeing the success of the company. $38,500 is less than one mill on our taxes for ten years and in dollars and cents would cost us nothing at all."

per annum for ten years—$19 in all. This is our total liability. In the event of complete failure, it has been said we will not be called upon to make any of these payments. There is, of course, the possibility that the company for the first year or two might not earn its full dividend of seven per cent. Then we would have to make good the deficiency.

ASKS SUPPORT

"This is the first step towards developing great and varied payroll income from the Dominion Government, and fully examined in all respects by the members of the City Council. I have but one bit of advice to give all progressive citizens, and that is to vote for the passage of the by-law authorizing this terminal cold storage plant."

British M.P.'s Debate House of Lords Reform Scheme

London, July 7.—Announcement in the House of Commons yesterday by the Premier, Mr. Lloyd George, that the House of Lords is to be reformed, has been the subject of a long and heated debate in the House of Lords.

The Prime Minister had to listen to criticism from Liberals, Laborites and Conservatives. John Buchanan, newly elected for North Devon, voiced his maiden speech in the House of Lords.

Mr. Lloyd George asserted that in the past the Liberal Government, in considering reform of the House of Lords, had decided to "leave the ramshackle thing where it was."

Discussing the hereditary aspects of the reform proposals, Mr. George questioned whether there were 200 people who by training, experience or mental qualities had the necessary qualifications for revising British legislation. He thought there might be fifty such peers at the most.

LONG FLIGHT PLANNED

Brussels, July 7.—A non-stop aeroplane flight from Brussels to Leopoldville, Belgian Congo, covering 4,000 miles, is planned for August or September by Flight Lieutenants George Meade and Jean Vergeas, navigator.

They hope to return by way of Egypt, with a stop at Cairo, the total circuit covering 7,750 miles.

Former Railway Employee is Now Famous Singer

Banff, July 7.—For the first time in eighteen years Allen McQuibban, famous singer, passed through here yesterday on his way to the Pacific Coast.

The trip was of special interest to him as the last time he was here was in the early days of the present century when he was a foreman in the employ of the Canadian Pacific Railway, before his golden voice brought him fame and fortune.

QUEENSLAND POLICE DISARM STRIKERS

Labor Troubles Cause High Tension in Sugar Cane Fields

Brisbane, Queensland, July 7.—The atmosphere in the sugar cane fields in northern Queensland is electrical.

The Government has ordered the disarming of all strikers. Police have closed hotels in the danger zone. Many strikers are disarmed with the efforts of the police in the manner for the perpetrator of the murder of the British picket. Others have secured tents and torches, ready for a siege.

The Italian consul has assured the Premier he will do his utmost to prevent racial disturbances.

The water strike, which is not connected with the sugar strike, is paralyzing the whole of the Cairns district, whence sugar to the value of $10,000,000 annually is supplied to Australia. The planters and farmers have their own men and their own steamers if their cargoes are held up.

Wharf Extension at Seattle is Planned

Seattle, July 7.—Construction of a 100-foot extension to Pier Five, owned by the Northern Pacific Railway, with a general rearrangement of office and warehouse space, at a cost of approximately $200,000, will be started soon, officials of the railway admitted yesterday.

The Williams Steamship Company will probably take over the pier for its terminals early this fall, moving from the Spokane street dock, it was intimated. Present uptown offices will also be moved to Pier Five.

business is understood to have forced the removal of the company which operates inter-coastal steamers. The new construction will add 1,000 feet of berthing space, making the terminal suitable for the largest ocean-going carriers. The pier is at present operated by the Hayden Dock Company.

Contract for the repairs of the steamship Remus recently sold to the Norwegian American Line by the Latin-American Line was let yesterday by the Todd Drydock & Repair Co. Repairs will be made to the bottom, and the machinery and hull overhauled.

A successful whaling season in Alaska waters is expected by the United States whaling fleet, which returned to Seattle Tuesday from Alaska. The Alaska Steamship Company's liner Victoria sailed yesterday. The fleet of ships of the maximum displacement of 5,000 tons, which left Seattle five weeks ago, has returned to port.

GREATEST FESTIVAL ALBERNI HAS HELD

Three-day Diamond Jubilee Celebrations Great Success

Alberni, July 7.—The three-day celebration of the Diamond Jubilee surpassed all other celebrations ever held in the Alberni district.

Starting off at 9 o'clock on Friday morning with the military sports at Canada Park, followed by the largest decorated parade ever held in the district.

At 11 o'clock the post office in Port Alberni at 11:30 a.m. and proceeded along Third Avenue to Argyle Street, and down to the Somers Hotel and along the road to Alberni, up Southgate Street, along Elizabeth Street, and down Johnston Street.

across the Klusquas and up the Beaver Creek Road to the park, where the judges selected the prize winners in the various sections, after which the Jubilee queen, Miss Dorothy Mann, was crowned by retiring Queen L. Clegg. A short address was given by the Rev. R. Redman, who also led the community singing.

Lunch was served in the Community Hall in the afternoon. Various wheels of chance, house games and other attractions of a similar nature did a thriving business throughout the day, and in fact trade was so brisk that they sold practically everything the first day.

SPORTS

After lunch the senior sports were held, when J. Hawthorthwaite of Nanaimo and Edward Tatosh, the Indian, took part in the major events.

Four bouts of boxing were held during the afternoon of four rounds each.

The first one was between Kid Moore and Young Wain, both of Nanaimo, which after four rounds of rather tame boxing was declared a draw.

The next one was between Johnnie Williams and Willard Eckland, both local boys, and was a sloping match from first to last, Eckland being all in at the end of the third, tossed the towel into the ring.

The third one was between Wing Hel, the fighting Chinaman of Port Alberni, and Young Petrie of Nanaimo, which was the best fight of the programme, but Young Petrie, while game and a glutton for punishment, was altogether too light for the Chinaman, who won on points.

The main event of the afternoon between Bud Sandland of Nanaimo and Kid Stubbs of Port Alberni, was very slow, with too much clinching, although the referee did his best to make them fight in the open. Stubbs knocked Sandland down in the first round for the count of six, and then knocked him out in the second round.

Sandland issued a challenge to Kid Stubbs for a return bout at an early date.

The principal prize winners in the various sections of the fiesta were as follows:

Fraternal organizations—1, The Elks; 2, The Eagles.

Women's organizations—1, The Royal Purple.

Other societies or organizations—1, The Alberni District Horticultural Society.

CRUISER AGREEMENT AT GENEVA EXPECTED

CLASH IMPOSSIBLE

London, July 7. (Canadian Press Cable)—The Manchester Guardian's correspondent at Geneva states the United States delegates at the Three-Power Naval Conference have concluded the idea of parity by "global tonnage."

Originally they proposed a global tonnage of from 250,000 to 300,000, he says, but now are prepared, it is reported, to increase the same to 400,000 or 450,000.

Rumor, according to the correspondent, says this offer has been made to the British almost in ultimatum form, with a threat behind it of breaking up the conference.

"I think such violence is very unlikely," the correspondent says, "because both the Americans and British desire the success of the conference."

UNIT PROPOSAL

The British, on the other hand, still adhere to the measure of cruiser strength being made by units, as required by the British position in defending the main routes to Asia; first, the western route, which is again divided into three routes, namely, by Kid Stubbs of Port Alberni, was very slow, with too much clinching, although the referee did his best to make them fight in the open. Stubbs knocked Sandland down in the first round for the count of six, and then knocked him out in the second round.

Sandland issued a challenge to Kid Stubbs for a return bout at an early date.

NEW HOSPITAL MAY BE BUILT SOON FOR
CRIPPLED CHILDREN

Vancouver, July 7.—The movement for an orthopaedic hospital home for the care and cure of crippled children, started some time ago by the Women's Institute for Crippled Children's Association, recently amalgamated with the Vancouver Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society to form the crippled children's branch of that organization, reached a milestone at a meeting of the board of directors of the branch Tuesday afternoon, when it was decided to make formal application to the Government for the grant of a site approximately five acres in extent, in order to establish a unit of an orthopaedic hospital home for the cure and care of crippled children. This site is situated on University Endowment lands at Twenty-ninth Avenue and Camosun Street.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Harry Duker, former president of the Crippled Children's Association, and many discussions took place. The suggestion that the equipment already possessed by the branch be sent to Alexandra, Solomun and the funds of the branch, amounting to about $10,000, be used for taking care of crippled children in institutions already established, was discussed, but was discharged, one reason being that the money was given by the public for a hospital for crippled children, and could be used for no other purpose.

In spite of the fact that some of the members objected to anything being done before the advisory board, which was not dissolved at the time of amalgamation, had been consulted, and that the sanction of the provincial board of the Red Cross Society, to which the branch is of necessity obligated, had not been procured, the meeting decided on the step already outlined. The members felt that the Government was sympathetic with the movement and that the request would be granted.

of Young Couple

London, July 7.—The marriage of a young London society couple, Mr. and Mrs. Loel Guinness, who will make their home in the United States, was solemnized at St. Margaret's, Westminster, yesterday in the presence of members of the royal family. The wedding was one of the social events of the London season.

The bride, who is dark-haired and noted for her beauty, is nineteen, and was the Honorable Joan Yarde-Buller, eldest daughter of Baron and Lady Churston. The bridegroom, who is twenty-one, is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Guinness, who are members of the wealthy Irish family of the Earl of Iveagh.

The bridegroom's mother is known as one of the most popular among London and New York hostesses, and his father has long been connected with banking and other business interests in the United States.

IMPORTANT WORK IN MEDICAL WORLD BY CANADIAN WOMAN

Dr. Maude Abbot Conceived International Scientific Association Now Established

Montreal, Que., July 7 (Canadian Press).—Thirty years ago a Canadian medical woman planned an international scientific association, and today the International Association of Medical Museums, which was the result of her idea, has a membership of many hundreds widely scattered over the entire civilized world. Its purpose is to aid the curators of medical museums by supplying a medium for the exchange of specimens and ideas. Through annual meetings and the publication of a valuable bulletin it further stimulates scientific research.

Maude Elizabeth Seymour Abbott, M.D., became lecturer in pathology and curator of the medical museum at McGill University at a time when the university did not admit women to the study of medicine. Shortly after her appointment she unfolded her idea for an international organization of curators to Dr. Walter Reid of Washington. Dr. Reid was at that time engaged in his fight against yellow fever, but Dr. Abbott continued her efforts unaided, and in 1908 they bore fruit in the first meeting of the present association.

Dr. Abbott, whose special field is pathology, has always been active in medical museum work. She established a method of museum instruction teaching at McGill, which was in use for some years. She is acting curator of the Canadian War Museum of pathological specimens, which is at present temporarily accommodated at McGill. This collection is very extensive and invaluable from a pathological standpoint. The classification and cataloguing of its specimens is a task covering several years, was directed by this Canadian woman under General Fotheringham, the curator.

Her duties as secretary of the International Association of Medical Museums occupy a great deal of Dr. Abbott's time, but is a labor of love. She feels that the body which she was instrumental in establishing a quarter of a century ago is ably fulfilling its purpose.

Vancouver Water Tunnel Discussed

Vancouver, July 7.—Services of J. Waldo Smith of New York, consulting engineer, have been secured by the Greater Vancouver Water Board in an advisory capacity in connection with the proposed pressure tunnel at the First Narrows to convey in safety the entire water supply under the inlet.

E. A. Cleveland, chief commissioner of the board, reported at a meeting yesterday that he had laid all the data concerning the tunnel proposal before Mr. Smith while in New York recently and had been advised that a pressure tunnel at a depth of 250 to 300 feet was the only solution of Vancouver's problem.

Mr. Cleveland informed the board that it sites for a dam now being investigated in the Canilano and Seymour Valleys should prove practicable these two watersheds would be capable of providing Greater Vancouver in the future with 300,000,000 gallons a day, sufficient for a population of 3,000,000. The board authorized Mr. Cleveland to proceed with construction of a dam at Seymour Falls at an estimated cost of from $125,000 to $150,000. The dam will be 450 feet wide and thirty feet high.

ing of an entire French village at Fox

of Los Angeles, for the greater part of the action takes place in the war zone of France during the World War. It is a thrilling story based on the adventures of a Wyoming cowpuncher, who goes to France in the artillery service in the wake of his pet horse, which had been commandeered by the army.
Appearing with Buck Jones in the

LOUISE BROOKS HAS STRIKING COIFFURE IN PICTURE AT CAPITOL

The "Louise Brooks" bob has been abandoned, temporarily at least, by its creator.
Louise Brooks, whose striking hair
style after her, has had her head transformed into a hysteria of curls for her role in "Evening Clothes." Adolphe Menjou's newest starring picture for Paramount now at the Capitol Theatre.
The Louise Brooks may be said to have been a combination of the Pola
Negri, Florence Vidor and Colleen Moore bobs, retaining the distinctive features of each.

It had Colleen Moore's Dutch cut in front, and the Negri side effect and the Vidor rear ensemble.
The stage attractions at the Capitol Theatre this week include Betty Anderson, lyric soprano, in a very delightful songologue specialty. Miss Anderson has just completed a highly successful engagement of sixteen weeks
at Grauman's Egyptian Theatre, Los Angeles. Duke Johnson and Buddy

"RESURRECTION" NOW
AT DOMINION THEATRE
IS EXCEPTIONAL STORY

The life of the ordinary moving picture is considered like that of the mysterious, little-known insect which opens its cocoon in the morning,
makes one appearance in the world,
and dies before nightfall. At least,
this has been the life of the motion picture with very few exceptions until the present.

Comes now Edwin Carewe, who in conjunction with Inspiration Pictures, produced "Resurrection," now showing
at the Dominion from the immortal
novel by Count Leo Tolstoy, to refute
the aforementioned accepted facts asent, the average picture's life. Care-we immediately qualifies his statement, however, by the preface that
"Resurrection" is not an average story.

"HOGAN'S ALLEY" ONE
OF SEASON'S BEST
MOVING PICTURES

"Hogan's Alley," the screen version of Gregory Rogers's thrillingly entertaining story of life on the East Side of old New York, of the conflict between young love and wealth, has been picturized by Warner Bros. and opened at the Playhouse this week.

Monte Blue, the star, appears as a young Irish pugilist, the idol of the alley, and Patsy Ruth Miller as the pig-tailed terror with whom he falls in love. Willard Louis is a comedic treat as her old Irish father and Louise Pasenda more amusing than ever as a saucy Broadwayite. The remainder of the cast is consistently excellent, and in the direction of Roy Del Ruth has intensified the thrills, drama and pathos
of this comedy-melodrama which makes one of the best photoplays of the season.

STORY WRITTEN BY
CREATOR OF TARZAN
SHOWING AT VARIETY

FBO's latest Gold Bond Special, "Tarzan and the Golden Lion," which is at the Variety this week is entertainment
de luxe. The story, which was written by that eminent author and creator of Tarzan, Edgar Rice Burroughs, is a fantasy which has for its background the heart of Africa. In this strange setting moves the most unique figure in modern fiction, a white man who has spent his life in the jungle, making friends with the wild animals and followers of the various savage tribes. The theme of the picture is based on his adventures with Jad-bai-ja, the lion he raised from a cub and who has been his companion on his expeditions. The spotlight of thrills is focused on the effort of Tarzan and his band of Wanri
warriors to find the hidden city, where,
in the Palace of Diamonds, there is treasure beyond the dreams of man.

Vancouver and Seattle athletes car-

PAGANS GAVE MUCH TO CHRISTIANITY, DR. GOWEN STATES

Old-time Religions Survive in Modern Doctrines, Lecturer Explains

How pagan faiths of ancient times have contributed to the modern Christian religion was outlined by Rev. Dr. Gowen at the Anglican Summer School last night in the third of his series of lectures on "The Universal Faith."

Early Babylon, he recalled, furnished the story of the Wise Men, and to Babylon, too, must be traced the development of the ideal fellowship between all men. The great towers of the historic city suggested to men, as did the mountains of Greece, that they might climb up, from place to place, to commune with the Supreme Being.

From Egypt came totem worship, closely connected with the doctrine of incarnation; the lecturer said. Totem worship, he pointed out, is common to the Indians of North America. It represented an early form of ancestor worship at a time when men were quite willing to believe that their sanctity lay among the animals of the jungle as well as among men. Plain, the problem of pain, affected the animal world, made for man's needs. All this had some share in the great fact of Calvary. Egypt, he added, had also given to religion the idea of the quest after immortality.

PERSIA'S CONTRIBUTION
Persia's contribution included the doctrine of the angels and the doctrine of final judgment. The Greeks had contributed the doctrine of beauty, and the Hebrew religion, if it had been left alone might have been devoid of this essential quality. A sense of beauty, he felt, was much needed to-day. The Greeks, he stated, had also contributed something to the mysteries of religion and a great deal of the sacramental teaching of the church was traceable to them.

BROUGHT ORDER
Later Rome had brought not only law and order but the idea of catholicity, the feeling that religion must include all creeds and peoples. It had also brought the idea of peace, which became in time one of the greatest slogans of the Christian church.

Archdeacon Davidson lectured on the story of John Strachan, the first Bishop of Toronto. Born in Scotland in 1778, son of Presbyterian parents, he was one of the strongest figures in the Anglican Church in Canada. The Presbyterian Church, the lecturer remarked, had made some wonderful contributions to the episcopate in Canada.

"In fact," he said, "the episcopate in Canada has been recruited from many strange places."

Two of three of the Canadian Archbishops of the past began life as Presbyterians, he said. British Columbia had proved an exception by having only archbishops who were born Anglicans. There had been Methodist, Baptist and even Jewish-born bishops and the Roman Catholic Church had contributed one, if not more, bishops to the Anglican episcopate in Canada.

EARLY LIFE
Bishop Strachan had entered the University of Aberdeen to study for a teacher, at the age of twenty-one was selected as headmaster of a school which it was proposed to establish at Kingston, Ont., but when he got there found the school idea had been abandoned, and remaining in Canada he became tutor in the family of Richard Cartwright, and under the influence of this gentleman and others entered the Anglican Church. He was ordained in 1803, and immediately afterwards was appointed to the parish of Cornwall, subsequently going to York (Toronto).

The lecturer recalled Bishop Strachan's great influence through his education work, many of the leading men of a later day being his pupils. Pictured as a vigorous and forceful personality, Bishop Strachan during the war of 1812 gave special service to the town of York when the United States troops entered the place. At a later date he made a definite contribution to the church in his attitude on the question of Clergy Reserves, and he had also taken an active part in things educational. He it was who secured the Royal Charter for the University of King's College.

EDUCATIONAL WORK
In this connection Archdeacon Davidson noted the important part which the Anglican Church in Canada has taken in matters educational, which led him again to note the part which Scotsmen always had a keen appreciation of the value of education, and the importance of including religion in that education.

The "History of the Anglican Church in Western Canada" is to be subject of Dr. Davidson's lecture to-night.

Shirley

Shirley, July 7.—Rev. S. Lundie, B.A., pastor of the Knox Church, Sooke held a Conference service at the schoolhouse last Sunday afternoon. The organist, Mrs. Percy Clark, played music specially suited to the service and Mr. Lundie gave an able address, which was an inspiration in itself to better citizenship to a very appreciative audience.

The eminent Vancouver Island naturalist, Rev. Robert Connell, has been making a study of sea life at Muir Creek, taking advantage of the extremely low tides of the last week or two.

The annual school meeting will be held at 7 o'clock, at which a trustee and an auditor will be elected to take the place of Mrs. Edwin Clark and Percy Clark, respectively, whose terms expire then. Several matters of interest will be up for discussion, and money will be voted with which to carry on for the ensuing year. All eligible ratepayers are asked to be present.

On Friday afternoon next instead of Saturday afternoon the regular meeting of the Shirley Women's Institute will be held, the change being made for convenience of those who will attend the school meeting on Saturday evening. A director to succeed Miss A. S. Morris, who has left the district, will be elected, and other routine business will be dealt with.

A cable message has been sent round the world in eight minutes. A suburban resident says that's nothing to the speed the news circulated in his road that he had bought a new lawn-mower.

LESS POTATOES MORE TOBACCO, CROP FEATURES

Smaller Acreage Planted to Tubers; Some Vegetables Show Increases

Decreased planting of potatoes and increased acreage planted to tobacco are reported in official estimates as the chief feature of the vegetable growing industry in British Columbia. Detailed figures, released by the Department of Agriculture and covering the interior of the Province, indicate reductions in the acreage devoted to many different kinds of vegetables with a few heavy and insignificant increases in the space used for other varieties.

The entire Okanagan district as well as the areas around Lillooet and Ashcroft have 319 acres of early potatoes, compared with 633 acres last year while the late potato acreage has dropped from 4,881 to 4,197. Creston, Grand Forks and the boundary country have ninety-three acres of early potatoes as compared with sixty-two acres last year, and 844 acres of late potatoes as against 870 a year ago.

TObACCO ACReAGE UP
While only forty acres of tobacco was grown last year, 275 acres in the Okanagan Valley are being used for this crop now, definitely establishing tobacco growing as an important branch of agriculture. Of this total acreage, 200 acres are around Okanagan Centre and Winfield.

The onion acreage of the Okanagan has dropped from 1,554 last year to 1,233 this year. Cantaloupes show a drop from 171 to forty acres. On the other hand, the acreage devoted to some vegetables has increased. For instance, 155 acres have been planted to cabbage in the Okanagan as against 103 acres a year ago. Celery has increased from eighty-eight to 100 acres; carrots from seventy-eight to ninety-nine; turnips from fifteen to fifty-eight; beans from thirty-two to forty-six; parsnips from twenty-two to thirty-one; beans from eighty-seven to 212.

These figures are regarded as significant in showing the tendency of agricultural markets and also as forecasting the annual vegetable crop of the Province. Figures for the Fraser Valley and Coast regions have not yet been released.

LOCOMOTIVE MEN OUST TREASURER

At Convention in Cleveland, Ohio, C. R. Lindquist Found Guilty of Laxity

Cleveland, Ohio, July 7.—The triennial convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers here yesterday found C. R. Lindquist, secretary-treasurer, guilty of "laxity, carelessness and indifference" in his official conduct of the organization's affairs.

Lindquist, it was learned, demanded of the convention a hearing and vote. From responsible brotherhood leaders it was learned that Lindquist charges against W. B. Prenter, president; L. O. Griffing and Harry P. Daugherty, first and second vice-presidents, will be brought before the convention.

"No other result than that recorded could be expected from this convention," Lindquist declared last night. "A majority of delegates to this convention are determined to oust present officers of the brotherhood and there is nothing this can stop them." The charges, it is understood, relate primarily to the administration of the financial affairs of the organization, but they were said to deal only in generalities and no specific charges were cited.

"All the past efforts culminated in a fine drive to collect money necessary for the new building. Our hopes are almost realized, and we are waiting eagerly for the time to arrive when we go to our complete building, which will be worthy of the work we are trying to do for our sister women."

Longshots Provide Great Thrills For Fans When They Win

Tatters's Victory at Vancouver Yesterday Recalls Many Famous Bets in Past

Wishing Bone Paid $1,885.50 to Newsboy For $2.00 in Kentucky in 1912

There were a lot of gasps over in Vancouver yesterday afternoon when Tatters, a local owned horse, won the sixth race and paid the best bettors who had placed two smokers straight on his nose the handsome return of $141.15. That price set a new record for racing in British Columbia this season.

A longshot always gives the fans a thrill whether they have a nickel on it or not. So far the racing at Lansdowne Park, Vancouver, has been featured by high prices, which started off when George Mushbach paid pretty close to $100 last week.

Tatters, the horse which proved a sensation yesterday, is well known here. Jack Ross, fifteen-year-old local boy, is the owner and trainer. Last year Tatters won a number of races and rewarded his young owner very well. Yesterday Tatters ran the race of his life in a fast field, which caused the fans to overlook him.

STARTS THEM TALKING

Whenever a real longshot gets down in front the fans talk about it for a long time and question one another as to what is the highest price ever paid for a winning pony.

Last year several fashionable prices were paid on provincial tracks, but the real records belong to eastern tracks. Two years ago at Edmonton, Bar and Pheasant, owned by J. S. McDaniels and ridden by Jockey Buck, got down in front to pay the luxurious price of $507.50. Show tickets were worth $25.65.

Two years ago Regina contributed a fancy price to the record books, when Black Pat ran away from a field of nine to win for $42 investment that he carried.

A COUPLE OF GOOD ONES

Although the prices paid by Bar of Pheasant and Black Pat are records for Canadian turf, much higher returns have been made on the other side of the border.

A horse named Finnaste running at Irapuato two years ago paid as high as $702.90 for two humble berries, a quick and noble return. There was only one ticket out on Finnaste, a colored lady, who celebrated so well that there was a considerable shrinkage in her winnings.

Probably the greatest bet that ever went through a pari-mutuel machine was that made on Wishing Bone at Lexington, Kentucky, as far back as 1912. On that occasion a newsboy held the only straight bet ticket and when the only straight bet ticket was sold and the bet was made at the paying window, the return was exactly $1,885.50. That bet had a thrill that is given to few in a life-time.

Vancouver, July 7.—Tatters, rank outsider in the betting, won the sixth race at Lansdowne Park here yesterday afternoon and rewarded his backers $141.15 for a bet of $1.00. The race was a three-year-old and up, one mile and seventy yards, with a field of nine.

Blue Miss, another long shot, who came in second in the first event paid $50.75 for a bet of $1.00. The race was a three-year-old and up, one mile and seventy yards, with a field of nine.

CANADIAN GOLFERS WILL SEEK WESTERN GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

Chicago, July 7.—Lists were closed yesterday for the Western amateur golf championship which is to be played on the Pacific Coast this year for the second time in the history of the event. With the late scratches, there probably will be 175 starters when the qualifying rounds are played over the Seattle Golf Club course on July 15. With the long trip, necessary to the Rocky Mountains for the coast event.

Among the entrants are Chick Evans of Chicago, eight times winner of the title; Don Carick of Toronto, 1925 Canadian amateur champion, and Frank Dolp of Portland, who won the title last year at White Bear Club, St. Paul.

Midwestern contenders will be fewer than usual, but the coast golfers will be out in force from San Diego to the Canadian line, and many will emerge from the Rocky Mountains for the coast event.

Will Save Dempsey's Viciousness Until He Is Ready For Ring

No Chance to be Taken in Jack "Leaving His Battle in Training Camp"

Plans Wrong For Tunney; Adopts New Tricks and Style; Sharkey Keen

Saratoga Lake, N.Y., July 7.—Jack Dempsey, has rounded into shape "overnight," his handlers believe, and is facing the danger of going stale before the match with Jack Sharkey July 21. As a preventative measure Jack put up the usual boxing drill to-day. The ferocity of Dempsey's assault in the past two days, coupled with improvement shown in his new flat-footed style of attack, led Flynn to call the halt for a day.

Jack weighed about 190 pounds yesterday, only five pounds more than he expects to scale against the Boston slugger.

And on the occasion of Jack's comeback attempt, with the rest of the former champion's fighting career hanging in the balance, Dempsey will not be allowed to leave his battle spirit in the training ring, as his handlers believe he did against Tunney last fall.

TO SAVE HIS FEROCITY

Dempsey, although boxing only for speed under the instructions of Flynn, who referees all training bouts and coaches each move, in two days has knocked out two partners and has held up three others when they appeared about to drop.

Yesterday, Eddie McMulinn came flying from the ring in less than twenty seconds after entering it, and yesterday Jack Hildebrand went out after two minutes of body punching.

McMulinn and Dave Shadish barely finished their respective three minutes.

Flynn wants to save that viciousness for the night of the Sharkey melee.

Boston, July 7.—Jack Sharkey yesterday finished the first phase of his training in preparation for his meeting with Jack Dempsey in New York, July 21. To-day he left for New York, where he will resume intensive training on Saturday.

Sharkey's workout yesterday consisted of three rounds with the heavy bag, two with the light bag, three with Rocky Stone, Boston heavyweight, and a round of shadow boxing.

Sharkey's training was supervised by his trainer, Harry Kelley, who has advised greater caution on several occasions.

Saratoga Lake, N.Y., July 7.—An old dog will try new tricks when Jack Dempsey fights Jack Sharkey in the Yankee Stadium.

Despite the contention of handlers that the former champion is merely reverting to fighting style to the earlier period of his ring career, Dempsey apparently intends to show the fight fans something new in his attack on the big Boston sailor boy July 21.

During the last half-dozen workouts here Jack sought to regain the weaving prowess of titular days that made him a shifty target, a bobbing two-fisted fighter, ever alive and always on the attack. But something was wrong with the old system.

The natural fighting style of lean youth, raw, untried, did not return easily to the former champion, now thirty-two years old and almost twenty pounds heavier than the day he scaled in at 183 to win the title from Jess Willard eight years ago.

Spartan, catching Dempsey with solid left jabs as he tore in on his toes, tipped him off balance, ruined his balance, and forced him to swing long and accurate punches while out of position.

As a result, Jack's board of strategy, headed by his trainer, Leo Manning, worked out a solution of the problem. The decision pulled Dempsey down from his loss, straightened his body from the crouch and reduced bobbing to a minimum.

Yesterday, in the most impressive workout Jack has yet shown, he headed off a shell-shocked veteran, his right hand instead of trying to weave away from them and he continued to bore in close with head down and body away from it, hip short, left hooks to the head and ribs.

Jim Corbett, ex-heavyweight champion, watched Dempsey's workout. "I expected to find a shell-shocked veteran," he said. "Instead Jack is a wonderful fighter in grand condition."

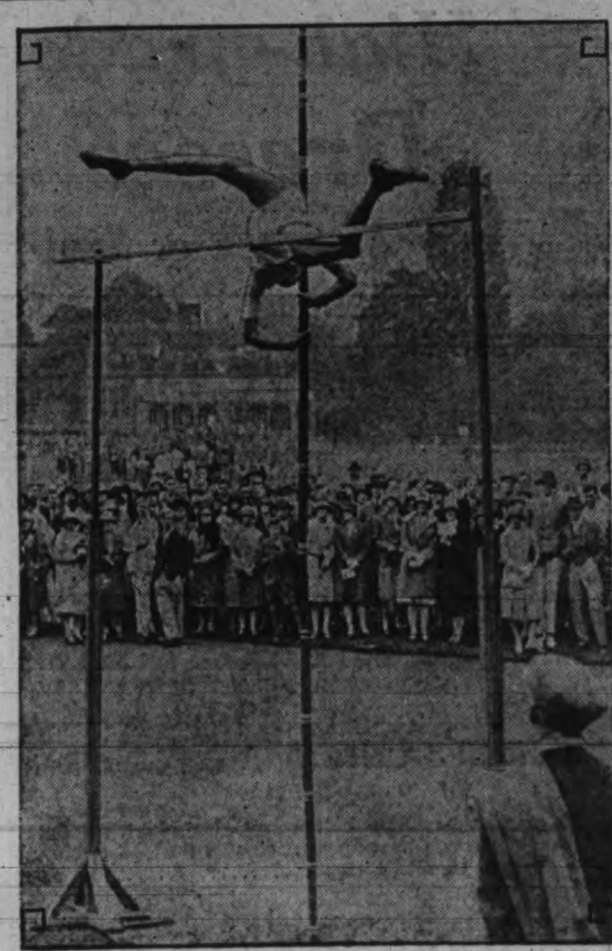

On Monday night the Travelers walked the Eagles to jump into first place, and another victory for them this evening will give the samplen a comfortable lead.

Korman Forbes will be on the mound for the Travelers so the Sons are assured of a tough time.

The Sons will have to use either Farnsworth or George Hagen, their newly-acquired pitcher, is not eligible to play.

Cambridge Athlete Thrills English Spectators by Pole Vaulting in Spectacular Attitude

It's clearing the bar that counts, not how you look while doing it! L. T. The photograph was snapped at a recent meet in England.

Canadian Cadets Shoot Well At Bisley Meeting

Bisley Camp, Eng., July 7. (Canadian Press Cable).—The team of cadets from Hamilton, Ont., here with the Canadian team, have put in splendid individual performances on the Bisley ranges during the early part of the National Rifle Association's meeting here.

The first three places in the service rifle shoot for the N.R.A.'s special badge were all captured by Hamilton cadets, Captain Hunter, Lieut. Matchett and Lieut. Hilson each scoring 90 out of a possible 100.

They shot off later for the badge and Captain Hunter won. Lieut. Hilson got a possible 95 in one of the sweepstakes, as did Captain Hunter and Lieut. Matchett, and in addition Hilson recorded 34 out of 35 in a snap shooting contest.

The Canadian Bisley team itself will finally swing into serious competition to-morrow with the shooting of the Donegal Challenge Cup and its connected qualifier, and the Conan Doyle challenge statuette, all service rifle events.

The Canadian team is putting in the final practice touches in readiness for the great Kolarup Cup which they will defend on Tuesday night for the third successive year against teams from all over the Empire. Eight marksmen will be picked from the eighteen shooting members of the Canadian team and the defenders will each fire ten shots at three ranges—300, 500 and 600 yards—with service rifles.

Toronto, July 7.—An unusual swimming marathon to be held here in August arrived in the city yesterday from Montreal in the person of Mrs. Dorothy Hepworth, a golden-haired swimmer from Devon, England. Only five feet four inches in height and quite slim, this engaging little Englishwoman is not at all typical of the average long-distance swimmer in appearance. She commenced training to-day.

Yesterday, in the most impressive workout Jack has yet shown, he headed off a shell-shocked veteran, his right hand instead of trying to weave away from them and he continued to bore in close with head down and body away from it, hip short, left hooks to the head and ribs.

Vancouver Oarsmen Enter Strong Crews In N.P.A.A.O. Regatta

Plan Clean Sweep at Harrison Lake Against Victoria and Portland

Plenty of Material Available; Scullers of Promise Performing Well in Try-outs

Vancouver, July 7.—The Vancouver Rowing Club will make one of the strongest bids in its history for honors in the N.P.A.A.O. regatta at Harrison Lake, July 22, judging from the crews named for the event by Capt. Hugh Fletcher, of the club.

The senior four, with W. Bain, stroke, Archie Black at No. 2, George Kingley at No. 3 and Bill Wood at bow have been showing greatly improved form.

George Kingley, Herb Fullerton and Eddie Sneyd will contest the senior singles for Vancouver. Major Goodsell has been coaching Fullerton during the past week and the latter is showing remarkable improvement in style and speed.

Goodsell has re-rigged Fullerton's boat. Sneyd also has been showing up nicely.

One of the most promising aggregations is the tuckaway four, composed of Cy Cuthbert, A. Leitch, Ted Boyle and J. Hart.

JUNIORS DOUBTFUL

The junior four is the only doubtful quantity on the list. There are two crews eligible, and either or a mixture of both might be chosen. They line up at present as Bob Hulme, A. Elliott, R. Wilson and Don Allen in the first aggregation and Cliff Carlaw, P. Fiddes, L. Falls and Angus MacDonald in the second.

The junior doubles combination, Ernie Roberts and R. C. Barker, should do well judging from their performances to date.

The tuckaway doubles, E. Wood and H. McKay, have not yet shown what they can do. They are a promising pair, however.

Hugh Fletcher and Gordie Angus in the senior doubles shall form a steady combination and should go far.

Mickey Crisp and Art Bergman will give the best of them a scrap in the junior singles.

All the scullers will take part in the quarter-mile dash from present plans.

"Darned if it don't seem possible! He was so fond of his brother. But still—he says he was there himself, and Smith says it was this Bodey that took him away. Yow! He raised him arms helplessly. 'It's too many for me!'"

The sound of Mrs. Smith's footsteps came from Nadine's room, and the youth and the girl went back to their work.

"How do you get down cellar in this place?" asked the woman, entering. "Haven't been down," said Pierce. "I saw a trap door outside, though—on that side next to the hedge. He pointed. 'There was an old padlock on it.'"

Mrs. Smith departed through the rear door.

sure no one was listening, the Weasel whispered. "I am going to spatter some mud on that rabbit's new suit. Then we'll catch him and eat him. Of course you, being a big Bear, will have the larger share. A little rabbit stew will do for me."

"That is all very well," rumbled the Bear coming out of his cave den. "But how will you spatter mud on Uncle Wiggily's suit?"

"Easily," answered the Weasel. "You see Uncle Wiggily has just bought himself a new light summer suit. He is very proud of it. He will soon come hopping this way. I know for I hid behind a tree and saw him buying his suit at the one and two dollar store, and I heard him say he was coming out here to look for an adventure."

"Well, maybe he is," agreed the Bear. "But I don't see how a little mud will catch a rabbit."

"It will be easy!" chuckled the Weasel. "When Uncle Wiggily comes hopping along this path, wearing his new suit, I will be hiding back of a tree a little farther along the path. As soon as Uncle Wiggily hops past where I am hiding I will jump out and fling some mud on his beautiful new suit. He will be so surprised at this that he will be all fuddled up and then you can easily jump out and grab him and we'll both eat him."

"It seems like a good trick," agreed the Bear. "I'll go hide in the hollow tree and you hide behind the bush, for I think I hear Uncle Wiggily coming."

Quickly the two bad chaps took their places, the Weasel hiding near a puddle of black mud. The rabbit gentleman soon came hopping along whistling, twinkling his pink nose and thinking of no harm. The Weasel watched and as soon as the bunny rabbit had passed him the sly creature reached out and grabbed up a paw full of mud to fling at Mr. Longears.

"I'll plaster the back of his new suit with mud," chuckled the Weasel. "He will turn around to see what happened and the Bear can get him."

But just as the Weasel filled his paw with mud, all of a sudden, as Uncle Wiggily was hopping along the path, the rabbit gentleman heard, close down to the ground, a little voice asking:

"Please, Mr. Longears, can you help me?"

The rabbit saw a little July Bug crawling along. Snapping over low, to bring his ears close down to the tiny creature, the rabbit asked:

"What help do you want?"

"Will you please help lift this pebble off my left hind leg?" begged the July Bug, and Uncle Wiggily said he would and he did, still stooping over low, for the July Bug was so tiny.

And just as Uncle Wiggily stooped down, the Weasel threw a paw full of mud. Only instead of the mud hitting Uncle Wiggily in the back, it flew harmlessly over his head. And just then the Bear popped out of the hollow tree where he was hiding and the mud which the Weasel threw hit the shaggy chap full in the face.

"Oh, gurr! What are you doing—throwing mud on me, Weasel?" howled the Bear.

"Oh, excuse me!" whimpered the Weasel. "I didn't mean to do that!"

"Yes you did! You chucked mud on me purposely!" howled the Bear. "I'll fix you for that!" Forgetting all about the rabbit, the Bear chased the Weasel, who ran away and soon both bad chaps were lost in the deep woods.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed Mr. Longears after helping the July Bug on his way. "Those who sling mud often get it on themselves! Ho! Ho!" Then he hopped along with his new suit still spick and span. And if the ice man doesn't put a chunk of coal in the refrigerator to make the lemonade boil over, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Hopper's boat.

"Hoo oo! Come on out!" called the sly Weasel to the Bushy Bear one morning. The Weasel, who is a small, sly, cunning animal, but very fierce and terrible, stood in front of the Bear's den.

"Why should I come out?" growled the Bear, who wasn't very polite at any time. "I'm hungry, and if I come out of my den I will only be all the more hungry!" said the shaggy chap.

"If you come with me you will not be hungry long," whispered the Weasel as the Bear shuffled to the door of his cave den. "I'll get you something to eat."

"What and how?" growled the Bear. "I mean," he added, rubbing his dark black and red tongue over his white teeth, "what will you get me to eat and how are you going to do it?"

"I am going to play a trick on Uncle Wiggily!" chuckled the Weasel. "That is what I am going to do. And this is how." Looking slyly around to make

Last Minute News on Stocks and Financial

New York, July 7.—Excellent buying in Canada Dry stock is reported. The New York American says this morning. Coca Cola people are said to be interested.

Bets are being made that Baldwin will cross Cast Iron Pipe.

New York, July 7. (By R. P. Clark & Co.)—The tone of the market was somewhat mixed to-day. New high levels for the year in Baldwin, Houston Oil, Coca Cola, were a few of the day's prominent features. The market in early forenoon trended to higher levels under the helpful influence of favorable call money rates. Later, however, profit-taking was indulged in which had an unsettling effect generally. Strength was shown in the Loece issues in the afternoon when Kansas Southern made a new high for the year which had a steady influence on the rails; the buying became more discriminating.

Report that steel authorities estimate rail inventory the market at nearly 150,000 tons with additional business to come was reflected early by an improved demand for the steel issues. The oil section reflected early green on the upside in the earlier dealing. Steel was active around the best levels of the current recovery at 122. Reports of General Motors buying in steel were current. These rumors were erroneous. However, interests associated with the General Motors management absorbed the stock in large blocks.

Baldwin preferred and common rose simultaneously to record levels. The preferred is retable at 125. It has equal voting rights with the common. Its recent strength is ascribed to competitive buying on the part of interests wishing to strengthen their holdings.

Publication of the brokerage borrowings late to-day may be carried over as a market influence, while later in the week the steel tonnage report will come in for consideration.

New York, July 7. (By B. C. Bond Corporation's direct Wall Street wire)—Stocks sold off sharply in to-day's late trading after making earlier progress. Steel was active around the best levels of the current recovery at 122. Reports of General Motors buying in steel were current. These rumors were erroneous. Steel was active around the best levels of the current recovery at 122. Reports of General Motors buying in steel were current. These rumors were erroneous. However, interests associated with the General Motors management absorbed the stock in large blocks.

Baldwin preferred and common rose simultaneously to record levels. The preferred is retable at 125. It has equal voting rights with the common. Its recent strength is ascribed to competitive buying on the part of interests wishing to strengthen their holdings.

Publication of the brokerage borrowings late to-day may be carried over as a market influence, while later in the week the steel tonnage report will come in for consideration.

AIRMAN BYRD PLANS EXPLORATION TRIPS

Hopes to Spend Seven or Eight Years Blazing Aero-plane Trails

Paris, July 7.—Commander Richard E. Byrd expects to spend the next seven or eight years in exploration from the air, he told an Associated Press correspondent here today.

After his proposed South Pole flight, he would like to make a series of voyages of exploration over the trackless forests of Brazil, then perhaps a goodwill flight around South America, to be followed by another expedition, this time to Arabia.

His plans, the New York-France aviator explained, of course would be subject to ratification by the United States Navy Department, everything depending on his being granted sufficiently long leave of absence from the navy.

"Will you try to fly over Mount Everest?" he was asked.

The North Pole hero grinned as he replied:

"That's an interesting flight, but then it's not in my line."

Man's Body Hid Signal, Causing Railway Smash

Interest in Aviation Growing in France

Paris, July 7.—Public interest in the transatlantic aviators continued to rise yesterday. It spread to aviation in general and there were stories of whole flotillas of aeroplanes coming to Europe of Charles Levine returning home as an air passenger in the Columbus with a French pilot at the "stick."

A 4,000-mile flight from Brussels to the Belgian Congo across the heart of the Sahara, and further plans of Commander Byrd for exploring the region around the South Pole.

Premier Poincare yesterday conferred on Commander Byrd the insignia of Officer of the Legion of Honor. The decoration is higher than that which Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh received from the French Government. Byrd was made an officer of the Legion, instead of a chevalier, which was the rank bestowed on Lindbergh, because Byrd is an officer in the United States navy and is an older man.

Charles Levine yesterday at the International League of Aviators Club-house in the Bois de Boulogne gave his cheque for 100,000 francs for the construction of a clubhouse for aviators at Le Bourget.

Plea For Growing Generation Made

Cleveland, Ohio, July 7.—Youth was defended by the International Christian Endeavor Convention here yesterday.

With applause a resolution was adopted declaring the convention, representing some 400,000 Christian people in various parts of the world, "lifts its voice in behalf of fair-minded recognition of youth at the hands of the church."

Sugar Prices Too Low Now

New York, July 7.—Sugar statistics do not justify the present low level of the commodity, Charles Hayden, chairman of the Cuban Cane Sugar Company, said today in discussing the present state of the sugar market. The United States is 365 tons behind in imports so far this year, compared with last year, he asserted, and if this country should require as much sugar from Cuba this year as last, there was not a sufficient stock in Cuba to meet the demand.

The recent decline in the price of sugar, Mr. Hayden said, was not attributed to excessive supply on this side of the Atlantic, but to pressure on the part of European producers to effect sales for future delivery in the new New York coffee and sugar exchange.

"Unless the American consumption of sugar in 1927 falls off materially, all remaining Cuban stocks will be wanted," he said.

FRIDAY, JULY 8, 1927

Morning should be rather a favorable time for most activities, according to astrologers who find the planetary influences promising.

Women should make the most of the early hours which are supposed to be stimulating to their public interests.

Many discussions and schemes in women's organizations are foreshadowed, owing to political and foreign problems.

New leaders are to arise among young women who will achieve much in service to their country, the seer prophesies.

Agriculture again is subject to rather unfavorable planetary influences. Storms and other forces of Nature may cause losses.

Financial problems are subject to many sorts of interpretation under this rule and may cause much trouble, domestic as well as national.

WEST HAS IDEALS. NEW OUTLOOK TOUR MEMBERS DISCOVER

Wonderful Schools and Churches Impress as Bulwarks of Civilization

Visit of Easterners Promotes Canadian Unity, Dinner
Speakers Emphasize

Western Canada, which in the minds of many persons in the East used to be considered as a country of land speculators and grain men, now shows itself to be a country of ideals, members of the new Outlook Confederation trans-Canada touring party asserted in the speeches at the dinner at the Empress Hotel last night attended by the 200 members of the party with a number of prominent Victorians as guests.

"What has impressed me is the optimism of the West and its wonderful churches and schools, which are the bulwarks of our civilization," said Dr. S. W. Williamson of Yarmouth, N.S., in his speech extending the greetings of the Maritimes. The West has built for the future, wisely and optimistically.

Rev. J. P. Westman, chairman of the Victoria reception committee, gave a general welcome to the visitors. "I have not seen anything that resembles paradise more than the beautiful Butchart Gardens we visited today," said Dr. G. S. Gibson, assistant editor of The New Outlook, who presided at the dinner.

"Our trip across Canada is of an educational character and we have taken the opportunity of bringing a number of eastern people across the continent so that they may realize the conditions under which we are working in this country. There are many in the East who have a very imperfect idea of the extent of our Dominion. Ninety per cent of our party has never been in the West before."

"I hope some of those who have come out here, particularly the young people, will see a future for themselves in the development of our resources," said Hon. J. A. Macdonald, Chief Justice and Administrator of British Columbia, in his address of welcome on behalf of the Government and the people of B.C.

"We welcome you to one of the great provinces in Confederation and one of the greatest of all, because of its geographical situation," said Hon. J. D. MacLean, Acting Premier. He pointed out that the trade of the country for 1,000 miles of coastline to find its way out to the markets of the world through the ports of the B.C. coast.

"In this western part of Canada there is growing up a great population," Dr. MacLean went on. "Sixty years ago, west of the Great Lakes, there were only 60,000 people. To-day there are 2,600,000. This great population has grown up in the brief space of sixty years. It is important to realize that there is west of the lakes a vast aggregation of people and that their number will continue to grow at a rate more rapid than what you are accustomed to in the east. It is important therefore that the people in the east should take an interest in the west and its problems. The church and its representatives should be a great factor in making this country worth while."

R. G. Nicholas congratulated The New Outlook on its energy and vision in sponsoring the trip, which, he declared, was a celebration of the union of churches as well as the union of the provinces in Confederation.

"The only way we can establish the degree of unity this country so vitally needs is by knowing one another, and getting acquainted by just such means as this," Mr. Nicholas added.

Principal Ira Dilworth of the Victoria High School extended a special welcome to the teachers in the party. Rev. T. Creighton Cassidy of Lachute, Que., spoke of the idealism the party had found in the west as contrasted with the reputed materialism.

After the speeches the gathering sang "God Save the King" and "My Country 'Tis of Thee."

Other Victoria guests introduced at the dinner included Dr. W. G. Wilson, G. A. Bucklin, United States Consul; A. M. D. Fairbairn, Lieutenant-Governor's secretary; Dr. W. J. Sippell, Rev. W. A. Guy, W. E. Harper, Joseph Patrick, Arthur Lee, Walter S. Maguire, A. Sullivan, A. Hulse and O. H. Nelson.

Members of the party spent this morning at the Parliament Buildings, visiting the museum, library and archives. They left this afternoon for Vancouver, where they will be entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Chris Spencer at their Kerrisdale home.

Victoria, B.C.

Gentlemen:

I have been a sufferer from rheumatism for thirty years and have been gradually getting worse, till the pain in my knees, ankles, hands and back were so bad that at times I felt that I could stand it no longer.

A month ago I commenced using the I-ON-A-CO Belt and I can truthfully say the relief has been wonderful. Although I am now sixty-eight years of age I have accepted a position in a home at Shawnigan Lake, where I am going this week. Thanks to the I-ON-A-CO I am able to take this job, something I could not have dreamed of a month ago.

I heartily and sincerely recommend all sufferers to see and try the I-ON-A-CO Belt and get beneficial results as I have done.

Yours sincerely,

MRS. E. R. HODNETT.
